The tools change, the curiosity doesn't. From the early web to AI.

Since 1999 I've been carrying brands beyond the logo: brand identities, annual reports, infographics, templates, exhibition stands and websites, for healthcare, media, public-sector organisations and businesses. I work in InDesign, Illustrator, Photoshop and Figma, and I'm at home in PowerPoint and Canva. I use AI every day to explore more directions, faster.

I start by getting to know the brand, the client and the people it's for. Then I turn complex information into visuals people understand. I can back up every choice I make.

Featured project

At fssc.oscarsmeulders.com I've put together a selection of projects for you.

A project I'm proud of: Saltro

https://fssc.oscarsmeulders.com/projecten/saltro

Saltro is a diagnostic centre with more than 600 employees and its own labels, such as Directlab and Uitslagenportaal. No new logo, a new visual language. Saltro didn't need a new logo, but a visual language that works for every label: a colour palette, a play of lines and an illustration library, online and in print.

One brand, every format. Together with the communications department I took care of pretty much everything: PowerPoint templates, the exhibition stand, vehicle graphics, brochures and annual reports, both online and offline. Keeping it consistent. Alongside the design work, I guarded the brand identity, so every label stayed recognisable as Saltro.
